There was an amber alert for a girl named Savannah Graziano that went out in my area of Los Angeles not too long ago; I remember being shocked and horrified about how close she would have been when she was kidnapped, so I tri ed to follow the story to see if she was safe.

Not even 24 hours later it came out that not only did the police shoot and kill the young girl when she was attemptin g to escape her kidnapper, they then proceeded to claim she was shooting at them and so they shot her multiple times in “self defense” (unsurprisingly, she didn’t have a weapon at all). They are so corrupt that they are actively trying t o blame the child they were supposed to save for her own murder.

And when you search for news stories about the incident, almost all of them describe the false report the police put o ut. It’s fucking disgusting.
